Don't Look Back

It's bad enough that the Israelites were grumbling against their leaders. But they also complain to God that they were better off as slaves in Egypt. After all God did to bring them to freedom, now they want to go back to slavery. Before we judge them too harshly, we might ask ourselves if we ever act like that. For us, it might be looking back on our slavery to sin.

We might confess the sin and say we'll never do that again, but we often can't resist the memory of our past sins. As we hold on to the past, the temptations come back and draw us to repeat our offenses. Even though we know we are better off putting it behind us, we sometimes find it difficult to move on.

So how do we free ourselves from the past? Should we look to the future, instead? If we want to make the world, or just our community, a better place we can make plans. If those plans are ever going to work, we have to begin now. Jesus doesn't tell us to dwell in the past or dream of the future. No, he keeps us focused on the present moment, telling us to believe in Him now, His Father gives us true bread and Jesus is that bread of life.

Those words are just as true today. We may look fondly at the past, but if we don't let Jesus be born again in us, and if we don't take up our crosses each day—we are missing the chance to experience Jesus in us and in the people we live and work with each day.

Support The ABCD

The ABCD serves to unite us as Catholics within the Archdiocese of Miami. Each year, we demonstrate our unity as a church in our efforts to aid those who are in need and abandoned. Our programs bring our community to the love and peace of the Good Shepherd, Jesus Christ. We welcome our newly ordained priests with enthusiasm and great hope.

Let's Make a difference today!

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

If the alb is the premier baptismal garment, then why are there so many other styles of vesture in evidence in our parishes? In some places, altar servers and other ministers might wear a garment, usually black, called a cassock. Over that is normally worn a white garment (a "surplice"), reminiscent of the alb but much shorter, often of starched linen and trimmed with lace. The cassock is not a liturgical garment, but a clerical robe. Its origins lie in the religious habit of monks. By the late Middle Ages, diocesan priests and clerics increasingly were encouraged to emulate religious priests. Very small boys were often apprenticed to monasteries, especially for music education, and would be invested with a cassock and sometimes even inducted into the ranks of clerics.

For centuries before the Reformation, it was required that all men entering higher education be clerics, and so the cassock and its variations became familiar academic garb. At the Reformation, many ministers retained a form of the cassock as ordinary dress, rejecting liturgical garments. In the seventeenth century, the English Civil War was in part provoked by the Archbishop of Canterbury's insistence that ministers wear surplices. Although the Episcopal Church now retains "cassock and surplice" as the normal dress for lay men and women assisting at liturgy, Catholics are increasingly attentive to the deeply traditional treasure of the alb, our baptismal robe, when special liturgical vesture is needed.

Hurricane Prayer

Eternal Father, Creator of all the world and all that is in it. We beg you to spare the Florida Keys and the world from storms and hurricanes. If any should occur, we ask that they all go out to sea where they may do the least amount of damage to anyone. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen

FLORIDA IS PROTECTING LIFE Myth vs Fact

DON'T LET THE FEARMONGERS LIE TO YOU

MYTH: Women can no longer receive healthcare.

FACT: Florida does not restrict lifesaving care for women – it promotes it. Florida hospitals and health care providers deliver some of the highest quality prenatal care in the nation. Florida also provides additional maternal health care resources through the Florida Department of Health.

MYTH: Women will be jailed as a result of the law.

FACT: Florida's criminal abortion penalties do not apply to pregnant women. Florida works to ensure the health and safety of mothers and babies by continuing to hold medical providers accountable to the standards of their oath to protect and ensure the health and well-being of their patients.

MYTH: Women won't even know they're pregnant.

FACT: Pregnancy tests have evolved substantially over the years. Trace levels of hCG can now be detected as early as eight days after ovulation.

MYTH: Women will be forced to give birth even if their life or health is in jeopardy.

FACT: Florida law includes exceptions to save the pregnant woman's life or avert a serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function. Exceptions exist for pregnancies resulting from rape, incest, human trafficking, and for emergency medical procedures to save the life of the mother.

MYTH: Women in need of treatment for an ectopic pregnancy will not have access to care.

FACT: Treatment to remove an ectopic pregnancy is not prohibited under Florida law.

MYTH: Women who experience a premature rupture of membranes (PROM) will be sent home without care.

FACT: Florida law does not prohibit treatment for women who experience premature rupture of membranes (PROM) and as such, physicians in Florida should follow established standards of care regarding the most appropriate course of action for PROM. Florida law includes an exception to save the life of the mother or avert a serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function. In addition to this exception, the law does not prohibit saving the life of the mother in medical emergencies.

MYTH: Women who experience the tragic loss of a pregnancy, commonly known as a miscarriage, will be denied treatment.

FACT: Florida law does not prohibit the removal of the pregnancy for women who experience a miscarriage in any circumstance.
